Equivalent Runoff Units (ERUs) are determined for non-residential and condo properties by dividing the impervious areas by 5,339 square feet (the average impervious area for residential properties). For residential properties, this is determined by your Zoning Classification.

Credit will be used to show the reduced ERUs for properties that apply and are approved for a credit. Guidance for applying for this credit is on our website.

Zoning Class is utilized for residential properties to determine what "Tier" they are in.
